

2018 APM Globally-Focused Sessions

THURSDAY

Start Time	End Time	Session Title	Session Description	Presenters	Session Type	Track	Room
7:30 AM	8:30 AM	Social Work Practice With Immigrant Populations	Is language enough? Spanish-speaking client-worker relationships in child welfare.	Deirdre Lanesskog California State University, San Bernardino	Paper Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Europe 1, Lobby/Third Floor
8:45 AM	9:45 AM	Integrating Global Content into the BSW & MSW Curricula	This panel presentation by members of CSWE's Commission on Global Social Work Education will provide participants with concrete examples and ideas on how to integrate content on global issues and trends across the generalist social work curriculum at both the BSW and MSW levels.	Joy Borah; Lucy Lawrence; Dheeshana Jayasundara	CSWE Connect	CSWE Connect	Americans Seminar Room
10:30 AM	11:30 AM	An Inter-professional Coalition in the Defense of Human Rights	It has been documented social workers have higher rates Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) and insecure attachment categories. This presentation will provide a brief review of the ACEs and attachment research how it informs social work education around childhood history and professional decision making in child welfare professionals.	Rachel Copeland; Amanda Howard	Interactive Workshop	Interprofessional Education and Collaborative Practice	Southern Hemisphere 1/Fifth Level
10:30 AM	11:30 AM	Working With Unaccompanied Refugee Minors And Adults		Sook Hyun Kim	Paper Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Europe 1, Lobby/Third Floor
10:30 AM	11:30 AM	Applying a Rights-Based Approach to Short-Term Study Abroad and Service Learning Trips	Short-term study abroad programs is one means to extend global learning beyond the classroom, but can perpetuate stereotypes and dysfunctional power relations if not done carefully. How to apply the human rights-based approach when developing these study abroad experiences will be discussed to benefit both students and the host community.	Susan Mapp; Michael Berghoef; Karen Rice	Panel	International Issues	Americans Seminar Room
12:30 PM	1:30 PM	The complex relationship between refugee mental health and access to employment	This presentation investigates the complex interrelationship between refugee mental health and employment. It provides a practice-oriented introduction to issues in refugee mental health with a specific focus on the effects of employment. This presentation will be useful to social work educators, students, and field instructors.	Lindsey Disney	Electronic Poster Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
12:30 PM	1:30 PM	Services And Support For Refugees And Survivors Of Torture		Hyong Suk Yeom	Paper Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Europe 1, Lobby/Third Floor
1:45 PM	2:15 PM	Services And Interventions For Immigrants And Refugee Populations		Michaela L. Zajicek-Farber; Sarah Moore Olliphant	Paper Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Oceanic 3, Lobby/Third Floor
1:45 PM	2:45 PM	HIV Stigma among People Living with HIV/AIDS in Namibia	This research explored the relationship between HIV stigma, self-esteem, social support, and depression among people infected with HIV/AIDS. This study found that HIV stigma, self-esteem, and social support were significantly correlated with depression. HIV stigma was the largest risk factor and self-esteem was the largest protective factor for depression.	Eveline N. Kalomo	Electronic Poster Session	International Issues	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
1:45 PM	2:15 PM	Exploring Racism And Violence In An International Context		Rachel Shenhav-Goldberg	Paper Session	International Issues	Europe 1, Lobby/Third Floor
2:15 PM	2:45 PM	International Issues Paper Session 1		Emily Holderfield Galther; Angelique Horace; Sandra Starks	Paper Session	International Issues	Europe 1, Lobby/Third Floor
3:00 PM	4:00 PM	Leave no one behind: Ensuring global learning for all social work graduates	Can we identify international content that all students should receive? How can we best connect this content to social workers' professional roles and responsibilities? Through panel presentations and participant discussion, this session will focus on the challenge of providing minimum global education for all and identify ways forward.	Lynne Healy; Rosemary Link; Shirley Gatenio-Gabel	Partnership	Partnership	Europe 9, Lobby/Third Floor

3:00 PM	4:00 PM	Climate Change, Ecological Degradation, and Environmental Migration	Climate change has caused ecological destruction negatively impacting communities already marginalized. Political, economic, and social structures obstruct the rebuilding and threaten migrant safety. Issues of destruction, resilience, and rebuilding are explored along with the ways social workers can join with communities and other disciplines in the process of change.	Cathryne Schmitz; Yolanda Machado-Escudero	Interactive Workshop	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Oceanic 2, Lobby/Third Floor
3:00 PM	4:00 PM	Engaging Social Work to Defend the U.S. Refugee Resettlement Program	This session allows participants to confront a radical shift in U.S. refugee policy curtailing refugee admissions, banning particular nationalities, and limiting access to justice for asylum-seekers. The session examines how social work can engage in sustained local, state and national advocacy to defend programs for refugees and asylum-seekers.	Scott Harding; S. Megan Berthold; Kathryn Libal	Interactive Workshop	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Oceanic 3, Lobby/Third Floor
3:00 PM	4:00 PM	Across Two Continents: A collaboration between two social work programs.	This workshop describes a training collaboration initiated by a school of social work in South America with a school of social work in the United States. The 2017 collaboration included four 2-hour modules by Skype, and 3 workshops hosted at the South American University, all designed to increase skill-based learning.	Robin M. Smith; Sarah Sloan	Panel	International Issues	Oceanic 5, Lobby/Third Floor
3:00 PM	4:00 PM	Conceptual Model for Culturally Informed Re-Entry of U.S. Trained International Social Workers	This session explores social work education and the preparation of international students in U.S. programs. Cultural Hegemony is used as a lens to examine the lack of culturally informed preparation of international students for cultural re-entry to their countries of origin. A conceptual model is developed to address this gap.	Gabriel D Carrillo	Electronic Poster Session	International Issues	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
3:00 PM	4:00 PM	Use Of Reflective Practice In International Social Work		Subadra Panchanadeswaran; Iraida V. Carrion; Manisha Joshi	Paper Session	International Issues	Europe 1, Lobby/Third Floor
3:00 PM	4:00 PM	Comparing Macro Social Work Education and Practice in Israel, US, and Europe	This paper presents research ascertaining the state of macro social work in Israel compared to the US, Norway and Hungary through the perspectives of almost 500 social work graduates, faculty and interprofessional non-social work macro practitioners. Using a multi-methodology, it found great interest but less opportunity to practice macro skills.	Yossi Korazim; Ayala Cohen	Electronic Poster Session	Community Organization and Social Administration	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
4:15 PM	5:15 PM	IASWG and CSWE: The Group Work Method in Social Work Education	IASWG (International Association for Social Work with Groups) educators will examine/discuss: 1) the current state of MSW/BSW group work education; 2) group work teaching in MSW/BSW programs; 3) IASWG resources for MSW/BSW educators; and 4) how IASWG can continue to strengthen enhance group work education in partnership with CSWE.	Greg Tully; Shirley Simon; Brian Kelly; Mark Smith; Olga Molina; Carol S. Cohen	Partnership	Partnership	Europe 11, Lobby/Third Floor
4:15 PM	5:15 PM	Collaborating with International Partners: A Case Study in South Africa working with universities, hospitals, and community stakeholders.	There is growing research around the globalization of social work in research and practice. Investigators are continuing develop global partnerships to enact change for populations in resource limited countries. Ensuring that these partnerships are beneficial to both parties involves an egalitarian approach around equity, respect, trust, and cultural understanding.	Latoya Small	Partnership	Partnership	Oceanic 5, Lobby/Third Floor

4:15 PM	5:15 PM	A Systematic Review of Refugee Social Services	A systematic review of research examining social services provided to refugees highlights diverse approaches aiming to improve economic, social, and integration outcomes as well as a need for more rigorous evaluation.	Mallory Funk; Stacey A. Shaw	Electronic Poster Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
4:15 PM	5:15 PM	Resettlement Experience Among Refugees		Rebecca Thomas	Paper Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Europe 6, Lobby/Third Floor
FRIDAY
Start Time	End Time	Session Title	Session Description	Presenters	Session Type	Track	Room
7:30 AM	8:30 AM	United Nations' Mandate for Social Protection: A Challenge for Social Work Education	The United Nations has inaugurated the Global Partnership for Universal Social Protection, an interdisciplinary effort to create universal standards and practices that end poverty by 2030. Social Work is positioned for leadership in this effort through ongoing UN presence. This session will explore underlying concepts and their implications for curriculum.	Martha Bragin; Lynne Healy; M.C. "Terry" Hokenstad; Rebecca Thomas; Rebecca T. Davis	Partnership	Partnership	Northern Hemisphere E-2/Fifth Level
7:30 AM	8:30 AM	First, Do No Harm; Second, Be the Change: Ethical Study Abroad	This workshop focuses on strategies for developing ethically-grounded short-term study abroad programs that avoid perpetuating colonialism and exploiting host communities. Guidelines for interdisciplinary activities will be discussed by a faculty leader and an international program provider representative, including planning learning and desired outcomes while abroad, pre-departure orientations, and sample activities.	Melody Loya; Katherine Peters	Interactive Workshop	International Issues	Americans Seminar Room
7:30 AM	8:30 AM	Enhancing Students' Global Social Work Knowledge And Skills		Shirley Gatenio-Gabel; Tanzilya Oren	Paper Session	International Issues	Europe 1, Lobby/Third Floor
8:45 AM	9:45 AM	Addressing Global Social Issues: Project Implementation	Council members will discuss ongoing, as well as planned, projects that serve the council's mission of exploring and addressing emerging and existing global social issues. Council members will discuss the challenges of undertaking projects in a geopolitical climate that perpetuates economic and social inequities and how they have addressed and surmounted those challenges. Attendees will be invited to interact with panelists and discuss their own projects and ideas.	Jo Daugherty Bailey; Tanya Voss; Hadidja Nyirankuye; Lalit Khandare; Regardt Ferreira; Johnny Augustine	CSWE Connect	CSWE Connect	Northern Hemisphere A-3/Fifth Level
8:45 AM	10:15 AM	Hokenstad International Lecture: Dr. Innette Cambridge			General Session	Special Events	Pacific Hall B/First Floor
10:30 AM	11:30 AM	Language Interpretation for Micro and Macro Social Work Practice	This workshop aims to help monolingual and bilingual social workers involved in language translation and interpretation in the context of individual, family, community, and forensic practice. We will explore the ethical challenges surrounding translation and interpretation in micro and macro practice settings, and conduct targeted exercises to improve practice skills.	John Doering-White; Rosa María Bramble Caballero; Rogério M. Pinto	Interactive Workshop	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Northern Hemisphere E-3/Fifth Level
10:30 AM	11:30 AM	Tensions Between Students, Educators, and Employers Regarding Social Work Academic Programs	The present study aims to understand the tensions between students, educators, and employers and reconcile their perspectives and beliefs regarding the role and effectiveness of social work academic programs in preparing social work professionals for diverse social work practice.	Inga Saitadze	Electronic Poster Session	International Issues	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
10:30 AM	11:30 AM	Determination of Palestinian Parents raising Children with Disabilities	This qualitative study explores Palestinian parents with children with disabilities, major challenges, coping strategies and ways they adapt to address their children's necessities. The findings revealed that parents experience major barriers, but many appear to be attuned to their children's needs. Recommendations for service provision and advocacy will be provided.	Mahasin Saleh	Oral Presentation		Europe 9, Lobby/Third Floor
11:00 AM	11:30 AM	Examples Of International Programs And Their Evaluation		Deborah Sturtevant; Dennis W.	Paper Session	International Issues	Pacific Hall A/First Floor

12:30 PM	1:30 PM	Empowering Refugees And Undocumented Immigrants		Nicolaus Espitia	Paper Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Northern Hemisphere E-2/Fifth Level
12:30 PM	1:30 PM	IPE and intercountry adoption (ICA): Best practices, current challenges, and future directions	This presentation focuses on best practices and current challenges with intercountry adoption (ICA), emphasizing culturally competent practice. There is limited empirical research from the perspective of sending, especially low resource, countries. The results inform inter-professional education and inter-collaborative practice, potentially enhancing the human rights of all parties in the future.	Laura Summerhill; Catherine Hawkins	Interactive Workshop	International Issues	Americans Seminar Room
12:30 PM	1:30 PM	Learning about infrastructure and inequalities through an international faculty exchange	Through initial faculty exchange visits between US and Caribbean institutions, we sought to use the signature pedagogy of field education to learn about social welfare infrastructure and inequalities, by visiting students, supervisors, and administration at sites relevant to child welfare, interpersonal violence, human trafficking, health, housing, aging, and addiction.	Maya Doyle	Electronic Poster Session	International Issues	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
1:45 PM	2:45 PM	Evaluating a Dating Violence Prevention Program with Karen Refugees	This pilot study evaluated the effectiveness of Safe Dates, an evidenced-based teen dating violence (TDV) prevention program, with Karen Refugees from Burma. Findings indicate that youth were less tolerant of TDV from pretest to follow-up. Length of time living in the U.S. was significantly related to pretest and posttest attitudes.	Kristen Ravi; Diane Mitschke; Beverly Black	Electronic Poster Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
1:45 PM	2:45 PM	Social Work Education On Immigrants And Refugees		Victor Figueroa; Kerri Evans;	Paper Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Pacific Hall C/First Floor
1:45 PM	2:45 PM	Marriage, decision-making, and protective sexual behaviors of women in Kenya	In a structural equation model (SEM), we determine that married women who have higher autonomy, lower permissive attitudes towards perceptions of intimate partner violence are more likely to report having one sexual partner and to advocate the use of condoms during sexual intercourse.	Guijin Lee	Electronic Poster Session	International Issues	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
1:45 PM	2:45 PM	Opportunities and Challenges of Conducting International Research by Faith-Based Social Services Organizations	This workshop aims to facilitate a discussion on opportunities and challenges encountered by faith-based social services organizations conducting international community participatory research. The discussion is based on research work conducted by the presenters with a faith-based organization in Colombia to conduct a needs assessment to develop a social services program.	Leomaris Rivera; Diana M Padilla	Interactive Workshop	International Issues	Northern Hemisphere E-4/Fifth Level
3:00 PM	4:00 PM	Mujeres Invisibles: Gender-Based Violence Before, During, and After the Immigration Journey	Many Latinas come to the United States in order to escape violence. Violence may plague the streets of their country of origin or their homes or both. Unfortunately, the immigration journey is also fraught with violence. Gender-based violence, a threat for women throughout the immigration journey, often continues after arrival.	Cecelia M. Quinn	Electronic Poster Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
3:00 PM	4:00 PM	Interprofessional Education and Conducting Maternal Health Services Research in the Global South	A lack of collaboration persists between the global south and the global-north when researching maternal health services and improving global health outcomes. The social work profession must prepare students to enter a changing landscape of cross-national and cross-cultural global practice. This requires Interprofessional Education (IPE) to inform collaborative and equitable research.	Miriam Valdovinos; Karen Tabb	Electronic Poster Session	International Issues	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
4:15 PM	5:15 PM	Social Work Practice in China		Jing Guo; Theresa Kreif;	Paper Session	Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders	Europe 10, Lobby/Third Floor

SATURDAY

Start Time	End Time	Session Title	Session Description	Presenters	Session Type	Track	Room
------------	----------	---------------	---------------------	------------	--------------	-------	------

7:30 AM	8:30 AM	HIV/AIDS Continuum of Care Navigation among Dominican Immigrants in Puerto Rico.	This study identifies and characterizes differences along the HIV/AIDS care continuum experiences between Hispanic immigrants of varying migratory status and gender. Despite federal government efforts to link Hispanic immigrants to their HIV/AIDS continuum of care, they still show lower success navigating the system, especially for non-authorized Dominican immigrants.	Marinilda Rivera-Diaz	Electronic Poster Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
7:30 AM	8:30 AM	Social Class and Corporal Punishment in Bangladesh: Implications for Interprofessional Practice	This paper explores forms of corporal punishment (CP) and relationships between social class and CP in a convenient sample of 450 elementary school-going children in Bangladesh. Findings show that corporal punishment is prevalent and social class is an important construct for understanding CP	Hasan Reza; Shirin Sultana	Electronic Poster Session	International Issues	Atlantic Hall/First Floor
8:45 AM	9:45 AM	Serving Refugee Youth And Unaccompanied Minors		Jayshree Jani; Michael Reisch	Paper Session	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Europe 11, Lobby/Third Floor
8:45 AM	9:45 AM	A Village Enterprise: Social work-engineering interprofessional education advances social justice in Ghana	This presentation discusses the interprofessional social work and engineering collaboration, a 3-semester program that trains students in global project development. We chronicle the conceptualization, design, implementation, and 3-year follow-up on sustainability and social justice implications for the Pure Patriensa Enterprise, a water sachet production social enterprise in Ghana, West Africa.		Panel	International Issues	Europe 2, Lobby/Third Floor
10:00 AM	11:00 AM	Refugee Health and Wellness: Integrating Interprofessional Education into a Social Work Curriculum	In response to the most severe refugee crisis in modern history, a school of social work has developed a refugee health and wellness program that trains students from multiple disciplines to provide culturally appropriate services in interprofessional teams.	Josh Hinson	Interactive Workshop	Immigrants, Refugees, and Displaced Populations	Europe 1, Lobby/Third Floor
10:00 AM	11:00 AM	Resilience among Caregivers: The Role of Financial Status, Social Support and Health	This study explored factors associated with the resilience among caregivers providing care at home to HIV-infected adult children, HIV-infected grandchildren and/or children who have been orphaned by AIDS in Namibia. This study found that employment and physical health were significantly associated with increase of resilience in older caregivers.	Eveline N. Kalomo; Kyoung Hag Lee	Electronic Poster Session	International Issues	Atlantic Hall/First Floor