

Compliance, Concern, and Noncompliance Statements for the 2008 Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards

The Commission on Accreditation (COA) uses the Compliance, Concern, and Noncompliance (C/C/NC) Statements as a guide to consistent and complete reviews of a program's candidacy or reaffirmation of accreditation. Statements of compliance, concern, and noncompliance are provided for each Accreditation Standards (AS) and related Educational Policies (EP).

- Statements in the compliance column address the minimum requirements for completely and clearly meeting an accreditation standard and related educational policy.
- Statements in the concern column indicate how the narrative addressing an accreditation standard or related educational policy is unclearly and inadequately addressed.
- Statements in the noncompliance column note how an accreditation standard or related educational policy statement has not been met and has not been addressed.

1. Program Mission and Goals

Purpose: Social Work Practice, Education, and Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards The purpose of the social work profession is to promote human and community well-being. Guided by a person and environment construct, a global perspective, respect for human diversity, and knowledge based on scientific inquiry, social work's purpose is actualized through its quest for social and economic justice, the prevention of conditions that limit human rights, the elimination of poverty, and the enhancement of the quality of life for all persons. Educational Policy 1.0—Program Mission and Goals The mission and goals of each social work program address the profession's purpose, are grounded in core professional values (EP 1.1), and are informed by context (EP 1.2). Educational Policy 1.1—Values Service, social justice, the dignity and worth of the person, the importance of human relationships, integrity, competence, human rights, and scientific inquiry are among the core values of social work. These values underpin the explicit and implicit curriculum and frame the profession's commitment to respect for all people and the quest for social and economic justice. Educational Policy 1.2—Program Context Context encompasses the mission of the institution in which the program is located and the needs and opportunities associated with the setting. Programs are further influenced by their historical, political, economic, social, cultural, demographic, and global contexts and by the ways they elect to engage these factors. Additional factors include new knowledge, technology, and ideas that may have a bearing on contemporary and future social work education and practice.
Accreditation Standard 1.0 Program Mission and Goals The social work program's mission and goals reflect the profession's purpose and values and the program's context.

2. Explicit Curriculum

Educational Policy B2.2—Generalist Practice Generalist practice is grounded in the liberal arts and the person and environment construct. To promote human and social well-being, generalist practitioners use a range of prevention and intervention methods in their practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. The generalist practitioner identifies with the social work profession and applies ethical principles and critical thinking in practice. Generalist practitioners incorporate diversity in their practice and advocate for human rights and social and economic justice. They recognize, support, and build on the strengths and resiliency of all human beings. They engage in research-informed practice and are proactive in responding to the impact of context on professional practice. BSW practice incorporates all of the core competencies.
Accreditation Standard B2.0—Curriculum The 10 core competencies are used to design the professional curriculum.

Educational Policy 2.1—Core Competencies
Competency-based education is an outcome performance approach to curriculum design. Competencies are measurable practice behaviors that are comprised of knowledge, values, and skills. The goal of the outcome approach is to demonstrate the integration and application of the competencies in practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. The ten core competencies are listed below [EP 2.1.1–EP 2.1.10(d)], followed by a description of characteristic knowledge, values, skills, and the resulting practice behaviors that may be used to operationalize the curriculum and assessment methods. Programs may add competencies consistent with their missions and goals. EP 2.1.1—Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly. EP 2.1.2—Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice. EP 2.1.3—Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments. Educational Policy 2.0—The Social Work Curriculum and Professional Practice
The explicit curriculum constitutes the program's formal educational structure and includes the courses and the curriculum. Social work education is grounded in the liberal arts, which provide the intellectual basis for the professional curriculum and inform its design. The explicit curriculum achieves the program's competencies through an intentional design that includes the foundation offered at the baccalaureate and master's levels and the advanced curriculum offered at the master's level. The BSW curriculum prepares its graduates for generalist practice through mastery of the core competencies. The MSW curriculum prepares its graduates for advanced practice through mastery of the core competencies augmented by knowledge and practice behaviors specific to a concentration.

Educational Policy 2.3—Signature Pedagogy: Field Education
Signature pedagogy represents the central form of instruction and learning in which a profession socializes its students to perform the role of practitioner. Professionals have pedagogical norms with which they connect and integrate theory and practice. In social work, the signature pedagogy is field education. The intent of field education is to connect the theoretical and conceptual contribution of the classroom with the practical world of the practice setting. It is a basic precept of social work education that the two interrelated components of curriculum—classroom and field—are of equal importance within the curriculum, and each contributes to the development of the requisite competencies of professional practice. Field education is systematically designed, supervised, coordinated, and evaluated based on criteria by which students demonstrate the achievement of program competencies.

The program’s commitment to diversity—including age, class, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, political ideology, race, religion, sex, and sexual orientation—is reflected in its learning environment (institutional setting; selection of field education settings and their clientele; composition of program advisory or field committees; educational and social resources; resource allocation; program leadership; speaker series, seminars, and special programs; support groups; research and other initiatives; and the demographic make-up of its faculty, staff, and student body).

Educational Policy 3.2—Student Development
Educational preparation and commitment to the profession are essential qualities in the admission and development of students for professional practice. To promote the social work education continuum, BSW graduates admitted to MSW programs are presented with an articulated pathway toward a concentration. Student participation in formulating and modifying policies affecting academic and student affairs are important for the student's professional development.

Educational Policy 3.3—Faculty

Faculty qualifications, including experience related to the program’s competencies, and an appropriate student-faculty ratio are essential for developing an educational environment that promotes, emulates, and teaches students the knowledge, values, and skills expected of professional social workers. Through their teaching, scholarship, and service—as well as their interactions with one another, administration, students, and community—the program’s faculty models the behavior and values expected of professional social workers.

4. Assessment

Educational Policy 4.0—Assessment
Assessment is an integral component of competency-based education. To evaluate the extent to which the competencies have been met, a system of assessment is central to this model of education. Data from assessment continuously inform and promote change in the explicit and implicit curriculum to enhance attainment of program competencies.
Accreditation Standard	Compliance	Concern	Noncompliance
4.0.1: The program presents its plan to assess the attainment of each of its competencies. The plan specifies procedures, multiple measures of each practice behavior, and benchmarks employed to assess the attainment of each of the program's competencies (AS B2.0.3; AS M2.0.4).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Presented a clear plan that describes the assessment procedures, includes at least two measures for each practice behavior, and identifies benchmarks for each competency. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The plan (procedures, multiple measures of each practice behavior, and benchmarks) to assess the attainment of each of the program's competencies was unclear or inadequate. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The plan (procedures, multiple measures of each practice behavior, and benchmarks) to assess the attainment of each of the program's competencies was incomplete or not presented.
4.0.2: The program provides summary data and outcomes for the assessment of each of its competencies, identifying the percentage of students achieving each benchmark.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Summary data for each practice behavior and outcomes for the assessment of each competency, identifying the percentage of students achieving each benchmark, were provided. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Summary data for each practice behavior and outcomes for the assessment of each competency, identifying the percentage of students achieving each benchmark, were unclear or inadequate. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Summary data and outcomes for the assessment of each competency, identifying the percentage of students achieving each benchmark, were not provided.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Narrative adequately described the summary data presented. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Narrative describing the summary data was unclear or inadequate. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Narrative describing the summary data was incomplete or not provided.
4.0.3: The program describes the procedures it employs to evaluate the outcomes and their implications for program renewal. It discusses specific changes it has made in the program based on specific assessment outcomes.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Narrative adequately described the procedures employed to evaluate the outcomes and their implications for program renewal.
